The American Fisheries

FISH ARE YOUR BUSINESS.

That's why, like all successful businessmen, you should read the trade publication that reports on your business. In depth. Nationwide. In the case of the fishing industry, that publication is NATIONAL FISHERMAN. Each month, NATIONAL FISHERMAN brings you the information you need to help maximize your profits.

It will tell you how, as a businessman in the fishing industry, you can best take advantage of tax laws . . . about getting bank help and financing . . . about trends in prices, and expectations for the future.

It will tell you about new technology in the fishing industry . . . the latest research findings on subjects such as fish migrations, sea currents, and weather trends . . . about new equipment and electronics that can cut costs and increase profits.

Get the next 13 issues of NATIONAL FISHERMAN (12 monthly issues, PLUS the annual Yearbook) for just $15 — tax deductible. (Outside the U.S., $23 per year. Air mail rates available on request.) Send your check today to:

Aquaculture

Advances in Aquaculture, edited by T.V.R. Pillay and W.A. Dill. Fishing News Books. £52.00. 1979.

Based on the FAO Aquaculture Conference held in Kyoto, Japan, this work ranks as the most comprehensive and complete compendium of practical and scientific knowledge produced in the field of aquaculture. Contains 117 papers by 178 world-reknown specialists. Includes coverage of technical subjects as well as matters of business, development, insurance and research and extension services.

Aquaculture Engineering, by Frederick W. Wheaton. International Marine Publishing Company. 1977. $42.50.

Focuses on technical problems associated with the production of food and fiber from aquatic resources. Can be understood by non-engineers as well as engineers.

Aquaculture in Canada: The Practice and the Promise. Unipub. $6.00.

Investigates current status and potential, commercial and government fish production, marketing, species selection, and importation.

Aquaculture in the 1980's. International Resources Development, Inc.

Aquaculture in the United States: Constraints and Opportunities. Committee on Aquaculture, National Research Council, National Academy of Sciences. $7.50.

Current and potential production systems for food fish and others; science and technology; business and economic aspects; and legal and administrative factors of aquaculture.

Culture of Bivalve Molluscs, by Peter R. Walue. (Second edition). Fishing News Books. £6.50

Surveys developments in the cultivation of oysters and other bivalves over the past 50 years, present conditions and studies likely future trends.

Eel Capture, Culture, Processing and Marketing, by David M. Forrest. Fishing News Books. £7.25.

Discusses the international eel market, including elver capture and marketing, eel culture, eel capture, processing, and marketing.

Eel Culture, by Atsushi Usui. Fishing News Books. £7.75.

With sections covering conditions in Europe, America, Australia, and New Zealand, this book covers such topics as choosing the site for an eel farm, eel farm design and construction, feeding eels and water quality control.

Facilities and Methodology for the Culture of the Southern Sea Bass, by D.E. Roberts, Jr., Brian V. Harpster, Walter K. Haverns, and Keith R. Halscott. Florida Department of Natural Resources. No charge.

A study of a closed system for mass culture of marine finfish larvae.

Farming the Edge of the Sea, by Edwin S. Iversen. (Second edition). International Marine Publishing Company. $40.00.

Described by its publisher as a "necessary piece of equipment" for anyone considering sea farming. A thorough assessment of the practicalities in tropical, subtropical and temperate zones.

Farming the Waters, by Peter R. Limburg. Beaufort Books. $9.95.

A general introduction to all phases of aquaculture from backyard operations to commercial farms. Discusses problems and solutions and includes suggestions for do-it-yourselfers and fish farmers. Also tells where to obtain supplies.

Fish and Shellfish Farming in Coastal Waters, by P.H. Milne. Fishing News Books. £10.50.

Provides detailed information covering all phases of sea farming with case studies of successful ventures throughout the world. Particular attention is given to site selection, sea farm design, and construction and culture techniques.

Planning of Aquaculture Development, T.V.R. Pillay. (FAO) Fishing News Books. £4.80.

Attention is given to the basic data required for aquaculture planning; the varying needs of small-scale rural aquaculture and large-scale industry. Other chapters deal with auxiliary industries, manpower needs and training, research and information, investment decisions and financing, legal rights to sites and stocks, disease control and public health safeguards, conflicts in land and water use, pollution and other environmental problems.

Practical Shellfish Farming, Phil Schwind. International Marine Publishing Company. 1977. $8.95.

Learn the best locations and methods for shellfish farming, also the problems, from public fishing vs. private, to dealing with predators. Tells how to raise quahogs, clams, mussels and oysters.

Salmon and Trout Farming in Norway, by David J. Edwards. Fishing News Books. £9.00.

The author describes the techniques by which Norway became one of the world leaders in farming salmon and rainbow trout. Techniques of salmonid farming thoroughly described and well illustrated.

Shrimp and Prawn Farming in the Western Hemisphere, by Joe A. Hanson and Harold L. Goodwin. Academic Press. 1977. $29.00

A compendium of up to date practical information on culturing penaeid shrimp and the freshwater prawn (Macrobrachium), written specifically with the nonspecialist in mind.

Textbook of Fish Culture, Breeding and Cultivation of Fish, by Marcel Huet. International Marine Publishing Company. $48.00.

Fish farming methods, including ponds and fish suitable for control and increase of production, enemies, diseases, and harvesting of fish.

Trout Farming Handbook, by S. Drummond Sedgwick. Pendragon House, Inc. $21.00.

World Fish Farming: Cultivation and Economics, by E. Evan Brown. AVI Publishing Company. $20.50.

Covers all aspects of aquaculture in 28 countries and describes cultivation in fresh, salt and brackish waters.

American Food and Game Fishes, by D.S. Jordan and B.W. Evermann. Dover 1969. $5.00.

Atlas of the Pacific Northwest, 6th edition, edited by Highsmith and Kimerling. Oregon State University Press. 1979. $8.00.

A Century of Fisheries in North America, edited by N.G. Benson. 1970. American Fisheries Society. $3.45.

Compendium of Current Marine Studies in the Pacific Northwest. Oceanographic Institute of Washington. 1979. $30.00.

Project abstracts provide valuable research information and a means for direct contact among researchers and managers working in similar marine fields.

Encyclopedia of Marine Resources, by Frank E. Firth. Van Nostrand Reinhold. 1969. $29.50.

Field Book of Marine Fishes of the Atlantic Coast, by Charles Bueder. G.P. Putnam's Sons. 1948. $7.95.

Fisheries of the North Pacific: History, Species, Gear and Processes, by Robert J. Browning. International Marine Publishing Company. Revised edition: $24.95.

Covers every aspect of Pacific fishing.

Fishes of the Great Lakes Regions, by Carl L. Hubbs and Karl F. Lagler. University of Michigan Press. 1964. $9.95.

Fishes of the Gulf of Mexico, by Dickson Hoese. Texas A & M University Press. 1977. $7.95.

Fishes of the World: An Illustrated Dictionary, by Alwyne Wheeler. Macmillan. 1975. $12.98.

Each fish is described according to range, size, habitat, commercial importance, behavior, and biology.

The Fish Resources of the Ocean, edited by John Gulland. State Mutual Books. $37.00.

Provides basic information on resources to indicate possibilities for the development of new fisheries and provides data for early warning of the need for conservation and management.

Glossary of Fish Health Terms, edited by G. Post. American Fisheries Society. 1977. $5.00.

Guide to Marine Fishes, by Alfred Perlmutter. New York University Press. 1961. $5.95.

A List of Common and Scientific Names of Fishes from the U.S. and Canada, edited by R.M. Bailey. American Fisheries Society. 1970. $4.00.

Living Fishes of the World, by Earl Herold. Doubleday. 1975. $19.95.

The National Shark-o-pedia. The Janus Company. $6.75.

Northern Fishes, by Samuel Eddy and James C. Underhill. University of Minnesota Press. 1974. $12.50.

Reservoir Fisheries and Limnology, edited by G.E. Hall. American Fisheries Society. 1971. $4.95.

Selected Coolwater Fishes of North America, edited by R.L. Kendall. American Fisheries Society. 1978. $15.00.

Tuna: Distribution and Migration, by Hiroshi Nakamura. Fishing News Books. £3.50.

Different varieties of tuna show affinity to different oceanic currents.

Fish Science and Technology

Advances in Fish Science and Technology, edited by J.J. Connell. Fishing News Books. 1980. £39.00.

Eighty papers by 133 world specialists review past, present and future trends in fish science and technology. The book is divided into two parts; technology, including changes in fish resources and the influence of technology on industries — fish handling methods and utilization and scientific aspects. The second section is recent advances under headings such as minced fish, smoking, krill by-products, etc.

Atlantic Salmon: Its Future, by A.E.J. Went. Fishing News Books. 1980. £10.50.

Experts from both sides of the Atlantic met to discuss ways of ensuring the future of salmon; stock situation, international legal position and types of exploitation. Papers on cultivation dealt with ocean ranching, management in floating sea pens and aspects of genetics.

The Biology and Management of Lobsters, edited by J. Stanley Cobb and Bruce F. Phillips. Academic Press. 1980. Set $89.50, vol. I $55.00, vol. II $45.00.

Volume I: Physiology and Behavior

Volume II: Ecology and Management

Summarizes and reviews the current state of lobster biology, ecology, physiology, behavior, and management. It emphasizes the biology of clawed lobsters (Nephropidae) and spiny lobsters (Palinvridae) and also gives attention to slipper lobsters (Scyllaridae) and coral lobsters (Synaxidae).

Biology of the Oceanic Pacific, edited by Charles Miller. Oregon State University Press. 1974. $7.00.

Columbia River Salmon and Steelhead, edited by E. Schwiebert. American Fisheries Society. 1976. $10.00.

Control of Fish Quality, by J.J. Connel. Fishing News Books. 1980. £8.50.

This book sets out to establish a set of standards which will serve as a guide to fish technologists, industrial technical managers and fishery administrators around the world. The aim is to provide sound practical advice, in as non-technical language as possible, on fish and fishery products control.

The Economics of Fisheries Management, by Lee Anderson. Johns Hopkins University Press. 1977. $15.00.

Economic Impacts of Extended Fisheries Jurisdiction, edited by Lee Anderson. Ann Arbor Science Publishers, Inc. 1977. $36.00.

Proceedings of a symposium discussing international and industry aspects of extended jurisdiction, management problems, and suggestions for control.

The Fertile Sea, by A.P. Orr and S.M. Marshall. State Mutual Books. 1978. $20.00.

Explains the complex matter of chains of life in the marine environment.

Fish Health Blue Book: Procedures for the Detection and Identification of Certain Fish Pathogens, edited by D.W. McDaniel. American Fisheries Society. 1979. $10.00.

Fish Nutrition, edited by John E. Halver. Academic Press. 1972. $52.75.

For the serious student of the subject.

Fisheries and Energy Production, by Saul B. Saila. Lexington Books. 1975. $17.95.

Fisheries Oceanography, by Ilmo Hela and Tairo Laevastu. International Marine Publishing Company. $24.00.

A book of information intended for the practical fisherman to help him in interpreting data and weather information and for fisheries administrators in establishing and organizing efficient forecasting services.

Fisheries Resources of the Sea and Their Management, by David H. Cushing. Oxford University Press. 1975. $12.95.

Food from the Sea: The Economics and Politics of Ocean Fisheries, by Frederick W. Bell. Westview. 1978. $30.00.

Designed as a study book in the economics and trends in world fisheries, contains tables and graphs.

Guidelines for Striped Bass Culture, by E.W. Bonn et al. American Fisheries Society. 1976. $5.00.

Handbook of Trout and Salmon Diseases, by Ronal J. Roberts and C. Jonathan Shepherd. Fishing News Books. £8.50.

Practical manual of real help to the hatcheryman, fish farmer, resource manager and angler. Prior knowledge of fish biology or pathology is not necessary.

International Management of Tuna, Porpoise, and Billfish: Biological, Legal, and Political Aspects, by James Joseph and Joseph Greenough. International Marine Publishing Company. $22.50.

Introduction to Fishery Sciences, by William F. Royce. Academic Press. 1972. $20.50.

Managing the Sea's Living Resources, by H. Gary Knight. Lexington Books. 1977. $15.95.

Marine Ecology and Fisheries, by D.H. Cushing. Cambridge University Press. 1975. $45.00.

The Marine Plant Biomass of the Pacific Northwest Coast, edited by Robert Krauss. Oregon State University Press. 1978. $15.00.

Marine Pollution and Sea Life, by Mario Ruivo. Fishing News Books. £20.00.

Covers pollution in various coastal and sea areas, the behavior of pollutants on organisms and ecosystems countermeasures, and the scientific basis for legislative control.

Optimum Sustainable Yield as a Concept in Fisheries Management, edited by P.M. Roedel. American Fisheries Society. 1975. $4.00.

The Pacific Salmon Fisheries: A Study of Irrational Conservation, by James A. Crutchfield and Giulio Pontecorvo. Johns Hopkins Press. 1969. $12.50.

Details history of Alaska and Puget Sound Fisheries, recommends an alternative regulatory program. Includes graphs and statistics.

Principles of Fishery Science, by W. Harry Everhart. (Second edition.) Cornell University Press. $16.50.

Aimed primarily at graduate and upper division undergraduate students, a general text and reference book in fisheries management.

Reservoir Fishery Resources Symposium. American Fisheries Society. 1967. $10.00.

Salmonid Ecosystems of the North Pacific, edited by William J. McNeil and Daniel C. Himsworth. Oregon State University Press. 1980. $15.00.

Contains 17 articles that present current research on the freshwater and saltwater ecosystems that affect salmon survival and growth, on salmon population dynamics, and on artificial propagation of various Pacific salmon species.

Salmon Fishers of the Columbia, by Courtland Smith. Oregon State University Press. 1980. $15.00.

A Symposium on Diseases of Fishes and Shellfishes, edited by S.F. Snieszko. American Fisheries Society. 1970. $5.95.

Symposium on Overharvest and Management of Largemouth Bass in Small Impoundments, edited by J.L. Funk. American Fisheries Society. 1974. $3.00.

Trout Farming Manual, by John P. Stevenson. Fishing News Books. 1980. £9.75.

A practical, authoritative and comprehensive guide to the techniques of farming brown and rainbow trout. Although written primarily for those contemplating starting a fish farm or seeking a career in this field, it is so practical that established trout farmers will find many valuable hints on improving productivity and improving techniques.

Government Publications and Charts

Coast Pilots. National Ocean Survey.

Three volumes on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts. Supplements navigational charts with information on navigation, port facilities, hazards, channels, etc.

Eldridge Tide and Pilot Book. Robert E. White Instruments, Inc. Not a government publication.

Great Lakes Pilot. National Ocean Survey.

Supplements navigational charts with information on navigation, port facilities, hazards, channels, etc.

Light Lists. Superintendent of Documents, GPO.

Lists lighted aids to navigation, radio beacons, fog signals, buoys and daymarks. Vol. 1, Atlantic Coast, Maine to South Carolina, $10.00; Vol. 2, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, South Carolina to Texas, $9.50; vol. 3, Pacific Coast and Pacific Islands, $8.00; vol. 4, Great Lakes, $6.50; vol. 5, Mississippi River System, $8.00.

Local Notices to Navigation. U.S. Coast Guard District Office (see listing of addresses in individual sections).

Periodic listing of information vital to the safety of navigation in each Coast Guard District.

Tidal Current Tables. National Ocean Survey.

Daily predictions of the times of slack water, and the times and velocities of flood and ebb currents. Two volumes: Atlantic and Pacific Coast.

Tide Tables. National Ocean Survey.

Tide predictions (time and heights) for major ports and time differences to interpolate for minor locations. Two U.S. volumes: East Coast and West Coast.

Publications for Safe Navigation. National Ocean Survey.

Brochure listing information about NOS nautical charts and chart-related publications.

NOS Nautical Chart Catalogs. National Ocean Survey.

No. 1 — Atlantic and Gulf Coasts including Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

No. 2 — Pacific Coast and Hawaii

No. 3 — Alaska

No. 4 — Great Lakes and adjacent waterways.

Each catalog identifies the specific charts available for the area. Also listed are publications about tides, currents, marine weather, etc.

Life in the Fisheries

Alaska Blues, A Fisherman's Journal, by Joe Upton. International Marine Publishing Company. 1977. $14.95.

A season in the life of a southeastern Alaska commercial salmon fisherman. Narrative, journal entries and excellent photographs.

The Finest Kind: The Fishermen of Gloucester, by Kim Bartlett. W.W. Norton. 1977. $8.95.

Fisheries of the North Pacific: History, Species, Gear and Processes, by Robert J. Browning. Alaska Northwest Publishing Co. 1980. $24.95.

Covers every aspect of Pacific fishing. More than 75 species of fish and shellfish are described; methods, markets, and boat types are detailed.

A Living From Lobsters, by Robert Stewart. (Second edition.) Fishing News Books. £4.00.

Fishing for lobsters in England, including methods of finding lobster grounds, methods of working, boat selection and maintenance, propulsion methods, and hazards.

The North Ships: The Life of a Trawlerman, by Steven Piper. David and Charles Press. 1974. $5.50.

Pacific Troller: Life on the Northwest Fishing Grounds, by Francis E. Caldwell. Alaska Northwest Publishing. 1978. $4.95.

A narrative of the author's life as a commercial fisherman.

NEW ENGLAND

Federal Regional Offices

NOTE: Information provided on the following federal regional offices concerns only those duties and responsibilities pertaining to commercial fishing and associated activities. Information on the national level of each department can be found in "U.S. Government."

DEPT. OF THE ARMY

Army Corps of Engineers

Army Engineer Division, New England
424 Trapelo Rd.
Waltham, Mass. 02154
Tel: (617) 894-2400

Division Engineer: Colonel Max B. Scheider
Deputy Division Engineer: Colonel William E. Hodgson, Jr.
Chief, Operations Division: Vyto L. Andreliunas
Chief, Public Affairs: W.F. Mackie

Maintains and improves federal channels in deep draft harbors for ocean-going commerce and those in small boat harbors for commercial and recreational navigation. Approves applications for construction in coastal zones and rivers, inspects approved construction, conducts surveillance for unauthorized work, establishes danger zones, prescribes navigation regulations and investigates obstructions and complaints.

DEPT. OF COMMERCE

Domestic And International Business Administration

441 Stuart St.
Boston, Mass. 02116
Tel: (617) 223-2314

Director: Frank O'Connor
Trade Specialist: James E. Thomas

The Boston regional office has been active in assisting fish marketing domestically and abroad. Also provides numerous publications on domestic and export marketing. Advises on duty for U.S. export commodities in foreign countries and handles the Schedule B form, which must be filed for any exports exceeding $250. Also cooperates closely with the Small Business Administration in aiding boat construction and processing facility loans.

National Oceanic And Atmospheric Agency

National Marine Fisheries Service

NMFS has two separate organizations in the Northeast that serve the New England, mid-Atlantic and Great Lakes states. One is the Northeast Region organization, centered in Gloucester, Mass. The other is the Northeast Fisheries Center, headquartered in Woods Hole, Mass. The two directors report to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) assistant administrator for NMFS in Washington, D.C.

Federal Building
14 Elm St.
Gloucester, Mass. 01930
Tel: (617) 281-3600

Director: Allen E. Peterson, Jr.
Dep. Dir.: Dr. Robert W. Hanks

The Northeast Region is the federal regional organization concerned with the state conservation agencies, the recreational interests, the fishing industry and the general public. It is responsible for planning, organizing and implementing fishery management and conservation programs. Responsibilities include forming regulatory requirements, fishery management plans, fishery development and recreational fisheries services. Also provides administrative technical support to regional fishery management councils.

Administrative Management

Chief, Personnel Management Branch: James V. Taormino
Chief, Procurement & Gen'l Services Branch: Robert D. Cannon

Provides general administrative, personnel services and support to the NMFS Region and to the New England Regional Fishery Management Council. Also provides contracting, grant administration, procurement, property management, space utilization, safety and general services support.

Fisheries Development Division

Chief, Robert F. Temple
Chief, Marketing Branch: Paul M. Earl
Chief, Market News Branch: Robert A. Hall
Chief, Fisheries Development Services Branch: Warren F. Rathjen
New Bedford Liason Officer: John A. Lineham, P.O. Box H-3083, New Bedford, Ma. 02741, Tel: (617) 999-1206

Administers programs aimed at improving production and markets for fishery products.

Financial assistance programs include loans, loan guarantees and a capital construction fund for fishermen. Other programs include consumer education and marketing for fishery development and product stability, a regional market news system, preparation of market news and market research reports, and an industry liaison program. Also administers the New England Fisheries Development Program.

New England Statistics and Market News Regional Offices

Complete information on the availability of statistics and the Market News Service can be found in Section 4, under NMFS. Listings of other regional statistics and market news offices can be found under NMFS in the chapters dealing with the other regions. The regional offices are able to answer questions concerning the local fishing industry.

The following regional statistical reports are published monthly and annually by cooperating states and NMFS. They generally detail for the current year the landings and values according to state counties. See Section 4, Chapter 1 under "NMFS Publications" for ordering instructions and further information on the Market News Service.

"Maine Landings"
"Rhode Island Landings"
"Massachusetts Landings"
"New York Landings"
"New Jersey Landings"

Recorded current market information provided by NMFS is available around the clock at the following New England message centers:

Boston

Tel. (617) 542-7878
Landings and exvessel prices at Boston, Gloucester, New Bedford.

Gloucester

Tel. (617) 283-1101
Landings and exvessel prices at Boston, Gloucester; sea scallop landings and prices at New Bedford.

Fisheries Management Division:

Chief: Frank Grice
Chief, Law Enforcement Branch, Special Agent in Charge: Bruce Loucka
Chief, Fisheries Management Operations Branch: Kenneth L. Beal

Develops and administers guidelines for fisheries management plans. Also provides technical assistance to the regional management councils and enforces regulations for foreign and domestic vessels in the 3 to 200-mile fishery zone.

Also administers the State/Federal Management Program that is seeking to formulate regulation guidelines for inshore fisheries resources on a regional basis. Many of the fish stocks are regulated differently by states that share common resources among one another.

Environmental and Technical Services Division:

Chief: (acting) Marvin F. Boussu
Chief, Statistics Branch: Francis Riley
Chief, Environmental Assessment Branch: (acting) Ruth O. Rehfus
Chief, Federal Aid Branch: John E. Cookson

Provides technical services to the other regional divisions, the federal agencies, the states and the industry. Services include program for the collection and publication of fishery statistics, federal financial assistance to states and other non-federal interests for research and development of commercial fisheries, including anadromous resources, and coordination between NMFS and other agencies having developmental responsibilities or regulatory authority. Also advises on proposed projects or programs that could affect marine or anadromous fishery resources or their environments and reports on the impact of project developments.

Northeast Fisheries Center

Headquarters:

National Marine Fisheries Service
NOAA
Woods Hole, Mass. 02543
Tel: (617) 548-5123

Director: Dr. Robert L. Edwards
Assist. Center Dir. for Fisheries Management: Richard C. Hennemuth (Woods Hole)
Assist. Center Dir. for Environmental Management: Carl J. Sindermann (Sandy Hook Lab)
Planning Office: George J. Ridgway
Information Office: Jon A. Gibson
Regional Councils Liaison Office: Keith A. Smith
Operations Office: Herbert Stern Jr.

The Center is the research organization of NMFS' Northeast and mid-Atlantic areas. Includes a variety of facilities located in several locations.

Along with the administration of the laboratories, there are several coordinating divisions headed by two assistant center directors. They include the manned undersea research and technology program, resource assessment, marine ecosystems, aquaculture, environmental assessment, pathobiology and resource utilization divisions.

The purpose of the Center is to conduct research programs to develop scientific intelligence for the conservation and management of the living marine resources in the Northeast and mid-Atlantic waters.

The data collected is used by the Northeast and mid-Atlantic regional fishery councils to develop fishery management plans in the 200-mile fishing limit area. Also, the Center develops fishery utilization technology and development and aquaculture research.

The following are the Center's facilities and programs:

(NOTE: With the exception of those programs conducted by the Gloucester and National Systematics laboratories, projects conducted by the Center are done on a cooperative basis among its various facilities. The Gloucester and Systematics laboratories have complete facilities for their research projects.

National Systematics Laboratory

10th St. & Constitution Ave., N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20560
Tel: (202) 381-5751

Director: Daniel M. Cohen

Classifies selected marine and fresh water organisms of economic and ecological significance. Administered by the Center but serves the entire U.S. Staff is about 12.

Atlantic Environmental Group

Route 7A
P.O. Box 522A
Narragansett, R.I. 02882
Tel: (401) 789-9326

Director: M.C. Ingham

Provides background data to assist fisheries and environmental forecasting. Administered by the Center but serves the entire Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Gloucester Laboratory

NMFS
Northeast Fisheries Center
Emerson Ave.
P.O. Box 61
Gloucester, Mass. 01930
Tel: (617) 281-3600

Director: Dr. Louis J. Ronsivalli

Employs more than 30 scientists, technologists and support personnel. Also engages a food technologist / microbiologist and food-biomedical engineering consultants.

Primarily concerned with processing techniques and developing marketability of underutilized resources through the New England Fisheries Development Program.

Also, investigations of changes in fishery products that may cause health hazards, formulation of standards and inspection guidelines and quality control studies.

Woods Hole Laboratory

NMFS
Woods Hole, Mass. 02543
Tel: (617) 548-5123

Director: Richard C. Hennemuth

Assessment activities include determining the abundance, distribution and surplus yields of selected finfish, shellfish and crustaceans of the Northeast waters and compiling bioeconomic data for fishery management plans.

Narragansett Laboratory

NMFS
Route 7A
P.O. Box 522A
Narragansett, R.I. 02882
Tel: (401) 789-9326

Director: Kenneth Sherman

Conducts research on contributing conditions that affect the actual and potential production of fish stocks in the Northwest Atlantic. Also does assessment of stocks with recreational potential.

Milford Laboratory

NMFS
Milford, Conn. 06460
Tel: (203) 878-2459

Director: James E. Hanks

Conducts aquaculture and experimental biological research. Studies include algal foods, genetic selection, disease and predator control in larval mollusk culture. Also studies effects of pollution in aquaculture environments.

Sandy Hook Laboratory

NMFS
P.O. Box 428
Highlands, N.J. 07732
Tel: (201) 872-0200

Director: Carl J. Sindermann

Conducts and coordinates environmental assessment research. Research primarily aimed at pollution effects in the marine environment.
Also studies recreational fish.

Oxford Laboratory

NMFS
Oxford, Md. 21654
Tel: (301) 226-5193

Director: Aaron Rosenfield

Researchs all aspects of diseases affecting living marine resources, including the development of prevention and control in aquaculture and natural environs.

Research Vessels

The following are NMFS research vessels operating in the Northwest Atlantic: Albatross IV, 187' l.o.a., Woods Hole, Mass., resource assessment; Delaware II, 155' l.o.a., Woods Hole, Mass., resource assessment.

Privately owned fishing vessels are chartered by NMFS from time to time for special research projects. Also, research cruises of both the Albatross IV and Delaware II are often cooperative ventures between the U.S. and foreign countries with the vessels accommodating foreign scientists. Woods Hole is also host to foreign research vessels and U.S. fisheries scientists participate on cruises aboard those vessels. Such cooperative projects are both bilateral and multilateral.

New England Sea Grant Program

Sea Grant is a major part of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in the Dept. of Commerce. Its activities are funded jointly by the federal government and by colleges and universities. Its marine advisory services offer a broad range of information concerning the nation's fisheries to recreational and commercial fishermen, fish processors, and others.

NEMAS is an association of the New England and New York marine advisory, extension and educational programs. It was established to share professional talent and to work cooperatively on regional projects, some of which it underwrites with Sea Grant funds. Member Sea Grant programs contribute matching inkind resources to these projects.

Among its contributions in the commercial fishing industry has been arranging consultive expertise for new private ventures.

The association maintains an index of more than 100 persons in New England who have professional marine backgrounds and who may be willing to assist in Sea Grant programs or to advise on private projects.

The following are members of the Board of Directors:

Joseph P. Cusker, Executive Officer
Council of Presidents — Land Grant Universities of New England
Durham, N.H.

R.K. Dearborn, Assistant Director

Kingsbury Hall
Durham, N.H. 03824
Tel: (603) 862-1053

Director: Dr. Robert Correll
Extension and Public Education Director: Brian Doyle
Communication and Information Director: Rhoda Votan
Administrative Assistant: Phyllis Foxall

Funding 1980
Federal: $1,450,000
Matching: 919,269
Total: $2,369,269

Recent Major Programs:
Aquaculture:

Antigenic and Genetic Characterization of Infectious Pancreatic Necrosis Virus.

Estuaries

Estuarine Transport Mechanism of Juvenile Eels.

Socio-Economic Processes

The Scope of State Management Authority in the Regional Fishery Management Process.

Fishery Development

Generic Variation and Population Definition in Atlantic Herring; Vital Parameters for the Development of a Sand Launce (Ammodytidae) Fishery Off the Coast of New England; Studies to Provide a Better Basis for Management of Maine's Baitworm Industry; Development of Gaffkemia Vaccination System; Effects of Clam Digging on the Tidal Flat Environment and Mya arenaria Populations.

University of Rhode Island

Sea Grant Program
University of Rhode Island
Kingston, R.I.
02881
Tel: (401) 792-2553

Director: Dr. Niels Rorholn
Commercial Fisheries Extension Specialist: Duncan Amos

Institutional appointment: 1968
Designated Sea Grant College: 1972

Funding 1980-1981
Federal: $1,510,000
Matching: 788,560
Total: $2,298,560

Recent major programs:
Aquaculture:

Physiology of salmonids in closed systems.

Commercial fisheries — biology:

Regional fisheries population management.
Marine pathology.

Commercial fishing technology:

Evaluation of industry developed trawls by net tank testing.

Alternative methodology for collection of economic data on fishing vessels.

Enzymatic processes to preserve fresh fish.

Recovery of by-products from R.I. seafood processing industry.

Nutritional evaluation of stored, processed, cooked fish.

Coastal zone management:

Coastal Resources Center.

Education — course development:

Marine resources economics.
Ph.D. Program in Marine Economics (including fisheries).

Fisheries and Marine Technology.
Partial support for 2 yr. Assoc. Degree Program.

Information, decision making and strategic behaviour in regional fisheries management councils.

DEPT. OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Food & Drug Administration

585 Commercial St.
Boston, Mass. 02109
Tel: (617) 223-3171

Regional Food and Drug Director: Arthur J. Beebe, Jr.

Responsible for enforcing a variety of Federal legislation and programs. FDA's food program is designed to assure that all food shipped interstate, including seafood, is safe for human consumption—and honestly labeled.

The Regional office is responsible for investigations of food processing and storage facilities and the administration of the voluntary State-Federal-Industry cooperative National Shellfish Sanitation Program.

FDA inspects samples and analyzes interstate shipments of food, including fish caught beyond three miles offshore — particularly swordfish in New England — that is suspected to contain more than 1 ppm of mercury.

No licensing or reporting of interstate shipments to the FDA is required, and it is difficult for the FDA to determine whether or not swordfish suspected of containing high levels of mercury are caught beyond three miles.

Primary purpose of the voluntary National Shellfish Sanitation Program is to insure all shellfish are harvested from pollution-free waters, no harvesting is allowed in polluted areas, and shellfish are handled and processed under sanitary conditions. State authorities have principal enforcement responsibility including inspection of harvesting sites for various pollutants and red tide blooms. They also inspect depuration facilities used to cleanse clams. FDA intercedes only where state controls are ineffective and an adulterated and/or misbranded product is shipped interstate.

The Regional Office oversees, among others, the following Unit and Sub-unit:

Boston District Office

Director: Frederick R. Carlson

Tel: (617) 223-5066

Investigations Branch

Director: Earl V. Burton

Tel: (617) 223-2266

Makes unannounced inspections of food processing facilities to evaluate raw materials, sanitary condition, and labeling practices. Regulatory tools include seizure, injunction and prosecution.

The following state officers are responsible for issuing state shellfish licenses and interstate shellfish shipper certificates required in states participating in the program:

DEPT. OF LABOR

New England Region 1

John F. Kennedy Building
Government Center
Boston, Ma. 02203

Office of Public Information

Tel: (617) 223-6767

Regional Information Director: John Chavez

Several Dept. of Labor agencies in the Region directly or indirectly relate to the commercial fishing industry. The Office of Public Information can generally direct inquiries of labor related matters to the correct department. The New England Region does not have a regional director. The heads of the various agencies report directly to Washington, D.C.

The following are the primary agencies that direct federal programs and enforce labor regulations in the Region:

Employments Standards Administration:

Tel: (617) 223-4305

Regional Administrator: Walter P. Parker

Enforces the Fair Labor Standards Act, which includes minimum wage, discrimination, standards and women's welfare regulations. The Act specifically exempts commercial fishermen in most cases but does regulate dockside and fish plant labor. Several publications concerning the law are available from the Supt. of Documents (see Sec. 9, Chapter 3 for ordering instructions) or the Dept. of Labor regional offices. The primary publication concerning fisheries is "Seamen, Fishing, and Operations on Aquatic Products Under the Fair Labor Standards Act (WH Publication 1362)."

This section of the Labor Dept. is divided into the Wage and Hour Div., Office of Federal Contract Compliance Program, and Office of Workers' Compensation.

Only the Wage and Hour Div. maintains regional offices:

OSHA sets and enforces standards for industries involved in interstate commerce. The three industry areas regulated are classified as general, construction and maritime. General industries include seafood processing plants. Maritime standards apply only to dockside occupations. Fishing boats are exempt from OSHA standards.

Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training:

Tel: (617) 223-6740

Regional Director: Jerome J. Haggerty

The Bureau assists training programs developed by individual companies and organizations. It does not have funds to subsidize programs and is purely advisory. Predecessor agencies have been involved in commercial fishing training. However, fishing boat operators, and crews have been reluctant to provide accommodations and training that would result in part of the boat's revenue being used for pay.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

60 Batterymarch St.
Boston, Ma.
Tel: (617) 223-6449

Regional Director: Stanley C. Weinberg, Jr.

Offers the following services to the fishing industry in New England:

Assists canners, freezers and dealers of seafoods with fewer than 500 employees in becoming a supplier to the federal government.

Assists in improving business management skills for small onshore and fishing operations.

Assists in obtaining long term financing for shore operations for working capital, equipment and realty needs if the business meets the following requirements;

1. Employs 500 or fewer in the case of canning or freezing fish or seafood.

2. Has $22 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale frozen packaged fish and seafoods.

3. Has $14.5 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale canned fish and seafoods.

4. Has $9.5 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale unpacked fresh or frozen seafoods.

5. Has $275,000 or less in sales volume if they operate fish farms, fish hatcheries or plant oysters.

6. Has $7.5 million or less in sales volume if they operate a retail seafood market.

The SBA also assists fishing operations by helping to obtain working capital loans, purchasing used boats of any size, purchase, construction or reconstruction of a fishing vessel under five net tons if the annual sales volume is less than $2 million. (Note: See National Marine Fisheries Service for financial assistance for building or reconstructing a boat over five net tons.)

DEPT. OF TRANSPORTATION

Coast Guard

Atlantic Area

Governors Island
New York, N.Y. 10004
Tel: (212) 668-7196

Commander: Adm. Robert I. Price

Commands the following Coast Guard districts: Boston (1), New York (3), Portsmouth, Va. (5), Miami (7), New Orleans (8). For information on districts outside of New England (District 1), see "Coast Guard" under corresponding regional chapters.

Maritime Law Enforcement Branch

Tel: (212) 668-7877

Responsible for enforcing all U.S. maritime laws. Also notifies mariners of offshore fixed gear (i.e. lobster pots) through the free monthly publication "Atlantic Notice to Fishermen." This notice contains the geographical coordinates of all reported fixed gear for the Atlantic area and includes other topics and activities of interest to Atlantic fishermen.

The purpose of reporting fixed gear is for protection from trawlers and other marine activities. To report fixed gear, call the above number collect. Names of vessels reporting are kept confidential.

The branch is also responsible for daily radio broadcasts that report fixed gear changes. Stations, frequencies and time of the broadcasts are listed in each "Atlantic Notice to Fishermen."

Branch also schedules offshore vessel patrols that include fisheries law enforcement and boarding of foreign fishing vessels operating within the 200-mile fisheries zone.

First Coast Guard District

Headquarters

150 Causeway St.
Boston, Ma. 02114

Commander: Rear Admiral Raymond H. Wood

Tel: (617) 223-3601

Includes Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. For Connecticut Coast Guard information see "Coast Guard" listing in the mid-Atlantic chapter.

The following division organizations are of particular interest to the commercial fishing industry:

Office of Public Information
Tel: (617) 223-3611

Exchange St.
Providence, R.I. 02903
Tel: (401) 528-4335

Duties include the following:

1. Investigating violations of marine safety laws and regulations.

2. Documenting vessels.

3. Patrolling ports and harbors and inspecting waterfronts for safety.

4. Licensing and documenting merchant seamen.

5. Inspecting and certifying commercial vessels requiring certificates of inspection.

6. Inspecting other commercial vessels and Coast Guard approved equipment.

7. Investigating and mitigating spills of oil and other hazardous substances.

8. Investigating casualties and accidents involving commercial vessels.

Also publishes a newsletter for mariners using Boston Harbor. This is primarily aimed at the large cargo vessel operators but from time to time contains information of general interest to mariners.

Navigation Information

NOTE: Detailed navigational information is not in the scope of this publication. The following are sources of information available:

National Ocean Survey (NOAA)

Distribution Division
Riverdale, Md. 20840
Tel: (301) 436-6990

Publishes the following: "Nautical Chart Catalog No. 1 (Atlantic & Gulf Coasts)"

Lists and identifies on a map all available charts. Also lists, with prices, publications relating to nautical charts published and issued by the National Ocean Survey. Listing includes the "Atlantic Coast Pilot" books, tide tables, tidal current tables and tidal current charts and diagrams.

Also lists all distributors of charts on the East and Gulf coasts.

Special Charts For Fishermen:

"Georges Bank (Eastern Part)," "Chart No. 13204 and Georges Bank (Western Part), Chart No. 13203." These charts are printed on both sides. One side gives loran C coordinates and the other gives loran A coordinates.
"Gulf of Maine and Georges Bank, Chart No. 13009." This chart indicates bottom obstructions, hangups and wrecks for trawlers. Loran A coordinates on one side, loran C on the other.

Other Navigational Aids:

Eldridge Tide and Pilot Book, 51 Commercial Wharf, Boston, Mass. 02110. Tel: (617) 742-3045. Covers a wide range of navigational information including navigational aid details.

One of nine quasi-government management bodies created by the 200-mile fishing limit legislation in 1977. All councils are organized similarly, and an example of "Statement of Organization, Practices and Procedures" and other general details concerning the law and the councils can be found under "United States Government."

The Council is now preparing a management plan for American lobster. The Council is also developing proposed amendments to its Groundfish and Atlantic Sea Herring Management Plans.

The Council also has an appointed advisory panel of over 100 persons involved in the fisheries. From time to time the Council calls upon selected members of the panel for advice in their area of expertise.

The first management plans written by the Council were for groundfish, sea (Atlantic) herring, sea scallops and silver hake. Management plans to be written in 1978 were to be for pollock, ocean perch, red and white hake and red crab. Copies of the management plans are available from the Council.

Publications on New England Fisheries

The following publications deal primarily with New England commercial fisheries and related marine activities. Unless an address is noted, publications are available from sources listed in this section. Publications listed in other sections may also contain information on the state's fisheries. Prices are noted when available.

A number of technical and informational reports on various fisheries are available from the fishery/wildlife department of each state.

Remedies Available to New England Fishermen for Protection Against Subsidized or Unfair Competition. For New England fishermen and fish processors competing with fishing industries subsidized by foreign governments. From University of Rhode Island Marine Advisory Service, University of Rhode Island, Naragansett, RI 02882.

Membership: Full, $500/yr., no. members, 31; sustaining membership, $200, no. members 29; associate membership; $100, no. members, 12.

Organized in 1970 during a period in the New England domestic industry when the detrimental effects of uncontrolled, large scale, foreign fishing operations off the New England coast became intolerable to fishermen. Credits itself as being a major influence for the passage of legislation creating the U.S. 200-mile fishing limit.

General purpose is to promote the welfare of the New England fishing industry and maintain an organization for the mutual advancement of its members. Also exchanges and disseminates information among its members concerning improvements in methods and advancement in the fishing industry, both in the production and marketing areas. Promotes legislation but does not consider itself a political lobbying group.

One of the most important functions of the committee is to approve projects conducted by the New England Fisheries Development Program, which is administered by the National Marine Fisheries Service. Feasibility and priorities for proposed projects are assessed in the field by the committee's membership.

Funding has come from New England Regional Council (Governor's Council) grants, National Marine Fisheries Service, and other U.S. Government agencies.

Was also influential in organizing the National Fishing Vessel Hull and P&I Insurance Conference held in Washington, D.C. by the government and industry.

Appoints members to monitor government international trade negotiations that may affect domestic markets. Contributes to the establishment of liaisons between the industry and oil companies interested in outer continental shelf drilling. (see New England Marine Industries Council)

Full members include persons, firms and corporations whose primary interest is domestic fisheries products. They alone have voting rights. Sustaining members include fishing vessel owner/operators, dealers, processors, insurance companies, banks, naval architects, consultants, vessel repair yards and machine shops. Associate members include educators, scientists, government agencies and publications.

New England Fisheries Development Foundation, Inc.

One Court St.
Boston, Ma. 02108
Tel: (617) 720-3933

Executive Director: Ken Coons
President: Jay Lanzillo (Chatham Seafood Co-op)
Vice President: Jeff Davis (Baader North America Corporation)
Treasurer: Brian Veasey (New Bedford Seafood Cooperative Association)
Secretary: Bob Barlow (Mass. Lobstermen's Association)

A non-profit organization that plans and administers development programs for the New England seafood industry. The Foundation membership includes fishery groups, processors, dealers and retailers throughout New England. Funding primarily through the Saltonstall-Kennedy program. Foundation development programs include quality improvement, domestic and export marketing, energy efficiency and fishing technique demonstration projects.

The Research Institute Of the Gulf Of Maine (TRIGOM)

Rampart Professional Complex, Room 302
North Windham, Me. 04062
Tel: (207) 799-7303

Executive Director: Greg Scott

A private company that does environmental and socio-economic research studies related to marine and terrestrial coastal areas and fisheries for state and federal agencies and private interests. Recent projects have included an environmental assessment of pier facilities in Portland Harbor, an environmental assessment for the construction of two oil storage tanks in South Portland, a feasibility study for a fish pier in Harpswell, a review of fish pier feasibility analyzes for northern Florida fishing communities and two recent studies for the U.S. Department of State.

Atlantic Offshore Fish & Lobster Association

1 Washington St.
Newport, R.I. 02840
Tel: (401) 849-3232

Manager: Dan Escalera
Executive Secretary: Alan D. Guimond
Membership: 300
Founded: 1971

Membership includes fishermen from Maine to North Carolina (includes all fishing methods and species from the 3 mile limit to the 200 mile limit). Mitigates gear conflict problems in the offshore lobster fishery. Has established informal agreements among domestic fixed and mobile gear fishermen. Also monitors the regional fishery management councils operating under the Fishery Conservation and Management Act (200-mile limit).

Projects of national importance include improving weather forecasting in the N.E. region and developing a bilateral agreement with fishermen and the oil industry over drilling on the Georges Bank.

Publishes a newsletter, primarily for members.

Coastal Information

Division of Marine Resources

URI Bay Campus
Narragansett, R. I. 02882
Tel: (401) 792-6211

Manager: Charlene Quinn Dunn
Assistant Manager: Jane S. Miner

A non-profit agency, created by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in 1977, to provide synthesized, up-to-date information to groups and individuals in the Northeast whose decisions affect our coast. In general, information spanning the fields of government, technology, science, economics, and sociology is provided. Fishing gear design, the FCMA and underutilized species are topics on which specific information is available.

Northeast Marine Fisheries Board

Formed in 1972 under the auspices of the National Marine Fisheries Service's State-Federal Partnership Program to form cooperative management programs of fishery stocks within state jurisdictions. Members of the board are the directors of fisheries from Maine to Virginia plus a NMFS member. It prepared a surf clam management plan that was later turned over to the New England Fishery Management Council. Recent work on management plans have included striped bass, fluke, lobsters, northern shrimp and menhaden.

Board: Ralph Abele, Penn.; Charles Tholts, N.H.; Phillip Coates, Mass.; Wm. Wagner, Del.; Russell Cookingham, N.J.; Connell Purvis, N.C.; John Cronan, R.I.; Robert Jones, Ct.; Allen E. Peterson, Jr., National Marine Fisheries Service; Bob Rubelmann, Md.; Spencer Apollonio, Me.; Anthony Taormina, N.Y.; L.E. Zeni, Md.; James E. Douglas, Jr., Va.

MAINE

Management and Regulatory Organizations

The following state government organizations are involved in regulating, managing or serving Maine's commercial fisheries:

ATLANTIC SEA RUN SALMON COMMISSION

34 Idaho Ave.
Bangor, Me. 04401
Tel: (207) 947-8627

Commission members: Glenn H. Manuel, Spencer Apollonio, Joe Floyd
Chief Biologist: Alfred L. Meister

Charged by the Maine Legislature with the restoration and management of the Atlantic salmon in Maine waters. Represents the U.S. at international meetings concerning Atlantic salmon.

DEPT. OF CONSERVATION

Me. Land and Water Resources Council
State Office Building, Station 22
Augusta, Me. 04333
Tel: (207) 289-2211

Chairman: Richard Barringer, Commissioner

The primary responsibilities of the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation are to coordinate and supervise the activities and programs of the bureaus and agencies which are part of the Department; to undertake comprehensive planning and analysis with respect to the functions and responsibilities of the Department; to develop and implement procedures and practices to promote economy, efficiency and coordination in and between the various agencies and bureaus of the Department; and to recommend to the Governor and Legislature changes in the laws relating to the organization, functions, services or procedures of the agencies and bureaus.

Bureau of Public Lands

The Bureau of Public Lands Statutorily holds propietary jurisdiction over the submerged and intertidal lands of the State. The legislation authorizes the conveyance of certain State rights in this land for up to 30 years. Realizing that it is in the public interest to secure an economic return for the public on large scale commercial uses of this public land, and that it is also in the public interest to exempt small or non-commercial users from fees, and also to guarantee such users adequate real property rights in the State-owned submerged land, the Bureau has developed administrative procedures with the Department of Environmental Protection. The purpose of this administrative procedures is to provide environmental permit applicants with conveyances necessary to provide them with sufficient title for their applications to be processed.

The Land and Water Resources Council

The Land and Water Resources Council advises the Governor, Legislature, and State agencies on the development of a comprehensive, integrated land and water resources planning and management program for Maine.

The Council's membership consists of: the Commissioners of the Departments of Agriculture, Conservation, Environmental Protection, Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, and Marine Resources; the Director of the State Development Office; the Director of the Office of Energy Resources; the Vice President for Research and Public Services, University of Maine; member of the Maine Senate; a member of the Maine House of Representatives; and the Chairman of the Regional Planning Commission's Directors Association. The Maine Senate member is appointed by the President of the Senate and the House member by the Speaker of the House.

DEPT. OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Augusta Mental Health Institute Complex
Hospital St.
Augusta, Me. 04333
Tel: (207) 289-2591
24-Hr. Oil Spill No.: 1-800-482-0777

Board of Environmental Protection

Board of Environmental Protection: Henry E. Warren, Chairman, Commissioner, Me. Dept. of Environmental Protection;

Consists of 10 members appointed by the Governor for four years with the approval of the legislature. They meet on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. The BEP functions as a licensing and planning agency and, like a zoning board of appeals, it can issue variances. The Board may establish its own rules and regulations but only after a thorough process of public notification and hearings. It conducts public hearings, sets standards, issues liceses and permits (with standard and special conditions) for discharges of waste into air and water and some kinds of development on land. It can also accept and administer funds from the Federal government.

Bureau of Oil and Hazardous Waste Material Control

Administers Coastal Oil Conveyance Act, Hazardous Waste Program, Hazardous Waste Material Discharge Program

Div. of Licensing and Enforcement

Responsible for licensing of all generators, transporters and disposers of hazardous waste materials. Licenses coastal oil terminals.

Div. of Field Services

Recommends oil discharge, prevention and pollution control regulations. Enforces environmental regulations relating to long term storage of oil tankers in state waters. Handles all complaints of oil spills. Responds to all complaints of hazardous waste spills. Administers Maine's Oil Recovery Program (MORP).

The Air Bureau

Director: David Tudor

Establishes air quality regions, ambient (background) air quality standards and emission (smokestack) standards. Oversees municipal air pollution control, sets fuel burning equipment particulate (dust-dirt) emission standards, sets emission standards for incinerators, sets kraft pulping process emission standards, enforces the aerosol (fluorocarbons) spraying ban, maintains motor vehicles air pollution control systems, grants routine emission licenses (recommends license actions to the BEP in major cases) and provides for judicial enforcement of the air laws.

The Land Bureau

Director: Hollis McGlauflin

The Land Bureau is comprised of the Divisions of Review and Planning, Solid Waste Management and Enforcement. It is responsible for Site Location of Development Act (including mining), Great Ponds Act, Coastal Wetlands Act, Minimum Lot Size Law, Solid Waste Management Act and Laws Governing Septic Pumping.

The Water Bureau

Director: Steven W. Groves

The Water Bureau's primary function is the protection and improvement of water. It interprets and enforces the Maine Water Quality Laws and The Federal Water Pollution Control Act. The Water Bureau has seven divisions.

Division of Licensing and Enforcement

Responsible for licensing all discharges into any watercourse: surface waters or groundwaters of the state, handles state/federal permit programs including such discharges, processes log storage permits, receives tax exempt applications for pollution abatement equipment and makes recommendations to the BEP, handles all complaints that may relate to water quality violations, and recommends BEP certification for Maine Guarantee Authority.

Division of Municipal Services

Administers construction grants program that funds planning and construction projects for municipal wastewater treatment plants.

Division of Operation and Maintenance

Inspects wastewater treatment facilities; reviews operation and maintenance manuals; reviews some aspects of plans, specifications and reports relating to municipal and industrial treatment plant construction; reviews effluent reports, and certifies wastewater treatment plant operators.

Division of Evaluation and Planning

Directs program to achieve statutory water quality standards and administers the Federal "208" areawide planning program in Maine.

Division of Lakes and Biological Studies

Great Pond Research Program, biological expertise, lakes monitoring.

Division of Laboratory and Field Studies

Technical services for the Water Bureau and for water related activities of the Land Bureau, mobile and field laboratories.

MASSACHUSETTS

Management & Regulatory Organizations

Including Municipal & Fishermen's Organizations

The following state government organizations are involved in regulating, managing or serving Massachusetts' commercial fisheries:

DEPT. OF COMMERCE & DEVELOPMENT

100 Cambridge St., Room 1302
Boston, Ma. 02202
Tel: (617) 727-3221

Commissioner: James F. Carlin

Assists manufacturing, commercial and service enterprises, including the fishing industry, in being established and expanded in the state. Assists commercial fisheries by providing local statistics and other information and by aiding in site finding, financial advice and legislative support. On an international basis, it serves as the liaison between overseas companies that are interested in the Mass. fishing industry.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS

Leverett Saltonstall Bldg.
100 Cambridge St.
Boston, Ma. 02202
Tel: (617) 727-9800

Secretary: John Bewick

Is responsible for the state's environmental policies and laws. The following are EOEA units that have bearing on the state's commercial fisheries:

Coastal Zone Management Program

Tel: (617) 727-9530

CZM Director and Secretary of Environmental Affairs: Edward J. Reylly

Develops policies, implements studies and advises on uses of the Coastal Zone. Studies include the impact of Georges Bank oil exploration and development, dredge spoil disposal practices and fishing industry revitalization, including the upgrading of ports. Also reviews the Mass. Environmental Policy Act and National Environmental Policy Act.

Div. of Environmental Impact Review

Tel: (617) 727-9800

Director: Sam Mygatt

Evaluates and monitors environmental impact statements required by the Mass. Environmental Policy Act (MEPA). The law requires review of state funded projects and projects requiring permits or licenses from state agencies. Permit reviews include those that would affect salt marshes, salt ponds and shellfish flats.

Dept. of Environmental Management

Tel: (617) 727-3163

Commissioner: Richard Kendell
Deputy Commissioner: Bennett Petry

Sets and enforces environmental management measures. Responsibilities include overseeing five ocean sanctuaries created by the Massachusetts Legislature. In general, removal of sand, gravel or minerals, and discharge of new waste are prohibited. Shore protection, water navigation aids and fish harvesting are permitted. Also controls any alterations to wetlands.

Dept. of Environmental Quality Engineering

Tel: (617) 727-2690

Commissioner: Anthony D. Cortese

Massachusetts' equivalent to the Federal Environmental Protection Agency. Administers regulatory programs to reverse current environmental degradation and to upgrade the quality of the environment. Offers a directory describing its various programs.

The following divisions have bearing on commercial fisheries:

Wetlands Div.

Tel: (617) 727-9706

Acting Director: Roderick Gaskell

The Wetlands Div. reviews proposed projects in wetlands with local conservation commissions.

Div. of Waterways

Tel: (617) 727-4796

Director: John J. Hannon

Has licensing authority over tidelands, harbors and certain rivers below the high water mark for filling, wharf construction, bridges and pipelines. Its policy is to protect marine productivity, including shellfish and fisheries.

Also has funds for wharf improvement, public pier maintenance, channel dredging and maintenance and wreck removals.

At a community's request it will develop harbor plans through acquiring, improving and developing needed pier and terminal facilities. Priority is given to fishing interests.

Dept. of Fisheries, Wildlife & Recreational Vehicles

100 Cambridge St.
Boston, Ma. 02202
Tel: (617) 727-1614

Commissioner: Steve T. Chmura
Assist. to Com.: Harold J. Greene

Manages and studies inland and marine fish and wildlife resources. Also undertakes programs to improve markets and resources for commercial fisheries.

Div. of Marine Fisheries (DMF)

Tel: (617) 727-3193

Director: Philip Coates
Assist. Dir. Administration: Arthur P. Chesmore
Assist. Dir. Research: W. Leigh Bridges
Assist. Dir. Sport Fishing: Randall Fairbanks
Assistant Director Commercial Fishing: James Fair

Regulates the harvest of fish in coastal waters and aids in the promotion and development of the commercial fishing industry. Assists coastal communities to increase the supply of shellfish and to ensure that construction on coastal streams does not impede the passage of anadromous fish to spawning areas.

Shellfish harvesting is regulated by municipalities except that the DMF licenses harvesters who take shellfish from contaminated waters. Such shellfish are put through state purification (depuration) facilites.

Also licenses all commercial fishermen who take finfish and lobsters and wholesale, retail and bait dealers.

Marine Fisheries Advisory Commission

Members: Frank Vachoff, National Marine Fisheries Service; Robert Barlow, Mass. Lobstermen's Assoc.; Charles Fields, New England Lobster Co.; George Gleason, Gleason Bait & Tackle Shop; Morris Johnson, Shellfish Officers Assoc.; David Rider, charterboat captain; Mrs. Elizabeth Stromeyer, Red Top Bait Shop; Harry Swain, Boatowners United, Inc.

Advises the director on management proposals and approves rules and regulations concerning the commercial fisheries.

DMF Facilities

The following are facilities maintained by the DMF:

Shellfish Purification Plant
Plum Island
Newburyport, Mass. 01950
Tel: (617) 465-3553

Biologist William Jerome, Jr.

Used to purify mildly contaminated shellfish harvested by licensed "master diggers."

Cat Cove Marine Laboratory
92 Fort Ave.
Salem, Mass. 01970
Tel: (617) 745-3107

Chief: Russell Ceurvels

Used for a variety of projects conducted by the division. Capable of sophisticated biological, chemical and bacteriological analyses.

State Lobster Hatchery

Overall Economic Development Committee

185 Main St.
Gloucester, Ma. 01930

Tel: (617) 281-1744

Executive Director: Donald Field

Committee is composed of 25 persons of various backgrounds from the three communities it serves.

Organized and partially funded by the Dept. of Commerce's Economic Development Administration primarily to revitalize the Gloucester commercial fishing industry. Also serves the adjacent towns of Rockport and Essex. The committee has received grants from the EDA and other federal agencies totaling $9.9 million since it was formed in 1976. This is EDA's pilot program to revitalize a fishing industry on the verge of collapse. Programs have been aimed at the fresh fish sector of the industry and include:

1. Establishment of a loan fund used to help fishermen obtain enough equity to qualify for loans from customary sources. However, fund has also been used to make complete loans for renovations of older boats and purchases of new boats. The fund early in 1978 was capitalized by $300,000 from federal grants. Eventual capitalization is expected to reach at least $500,000.

2. Creation of a fresh fish marketing program which identifies fresh fish as being a Gloucester product. Created a demand fresh fish which processors found difficult to meet because of limited facilities.

3. Development of underutilized resources projects have focused on ocean quahog and dog fish. There is an abundant quahog resource off Massachusetts, and the surf clam supplies are declining (quotas set by the New England Fishery Management Council). However, it was discovered that coliform bacteria is too high as far as three miles off the North Shore of Massachusetts. Until this pollution is cleared, it seems unlikely that the ocean quahog can be landed to supplement the surf clam demand. OEDC also is working with the M.I.T. Sea Grant program to develop a dog fish skinning machine. M.I.T. was to build a prototype in 1978.

4. Directed the planning for the renovation of the State Fish Pier. This $7 million project will include a new 8 million lb. freezer and cold storage facility. The pier is owned by Massachusetts and managed by the Gloucester Community Pier Assoc.

5. Arranged for funds for new docking space for 35-45 small to medium size fishing boats (35'-60').

The following studies were being undertaken in 1978:

1. New docking space for 30 medium to large fishing boats.

2. Fuel oil depot on the pier.

3. Extension of the pier to increase docking area and expand fresh fish facilities.

4. Construction of a new all-purpose building on the pier.

5. Establish a fish auction in Gloucester for fresh fish.

6. Industrial waste disposal from fish processing. Processors will not be allowed to tie into the new Gloucester treatment plant. OEDC has requested a grant of $400,000 to develop and build a pilot seafood processing waste treatment system.

Makes unannounced inspections of food processing facilities for sanitary conditions and labeling practices. It also impounds fish suspected of containing high mercury content levels until laboratory tests have been made.

The voluntary Shellfish Sanitation Program is administered by the bureau. This program waives FDA inspection for shellfish dealers in lieu of state management. Primary reason is to enable states to close shellfishing areas when pollution occurs rather than to have contaminated shellfish harvested and impounded only when it is in interstate commerce. The states inspect harvesting sites for various pollution, including red tide blooms. They also inspect depurative facilities used to cleanse clams and other shellfish.

The following state offices are responsible for issuing state shellfish licenses and interstate shellfish shipper certificates required in states participating in the program.

Several Dept. of Labor agencies in these Regions directly or indirectly relate to the fishing industry. The Offices of Public Information can generally direct inquiries of labor related matters to the correct department. The Regions do not have regional directors. The heads of the various agencies report directly to Washington, D.C.

The following are the primary agencies that direct federal programs and enforce labor regulations in these two Regions:

Employment Standards Administration

Region II

Tel: (212) 944-3351

Regional Administrator: Frank Mercurio

Region III

Tel: (215) 596-1185

Regional Administrator: Charles Angell

Enforces the Fair Labor Standards Act, which includes minimum wage, overtime pay, record keeping standards and child labor regulations. The Act specifically exempts commercial fishermen in most cases but does regulate dockside and fish plant labor. Several publications concerning the law are available from the U.S. Supt. of Documents or the Dept. of Labor Regional Offices. The primary publication concerning fisheries is "Seamen, Fishing and Operations on Aquatic Products Under the Fair Labor Standards Act (WH Publication 1362)."

This section of the Labor Dept. is divided into the Wage & Hour Div., Office of Federal Contract Compliance Program, and Office of Workers' Compensation.

Only the Wage & Hour Div. maintains area offices:

U.S. Dept. of Labor

The Bureau assists training program developed by individual companies and organizations. It does not have funds to subsidize programs and is purely advisory. Predecessor agencies have been involved in commercial fishing training. However, fishingboat operators and crews have been reluctant to provide accommodations and training that would result in part of the boat's revenue being used for pay.

Offers the following services to the fishing industry in the mid-Atlantic:

Assists canners, freezers and dealers of seafoods with fewer than 500 employees in becoming a supplier to the federal government.

Assists in improving business management skills for small onshore and fishing operations.

Assists in obtaining long term financing for shore operations for working capital, equipment and realty needs if the business meets the following requirements:

1. Employs 550 or fewer in the case of Canning or freezing fish or seafood.

2. Has $22 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale frozen packaged fish and seafoods.

3. Has $14.5 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale canned fish and seafoods.

4. Has $9.5 million or less in sales volume if they wholesale unpacked fresh or frozen seafoods.

5. Has $275,000 or less in sales volume if they operate fish farms, fish hatcheries or oyster plants.

6 Has $7.5 million or less in sales volume if they operate a retail seafood market.

The SBA also assists fishing operations by helping to obtain working capital loans, purchasing used boats of any size, purchase, construction or reconstruction of a fishing vessel under five net tons. (Note: See National Marine Fisheries Service for financial assistance for building or reconstructing a boat over five net tons.)

Commands the following Coast Guard districts: Boston (1), New York (3), Portsmouth, Va. (5), Miami (7), New Orleans (8). For information on districts outside of Mid-Atlantic Districts see "Coast Guard" under corresponding regional chapters.

Maritime Law Enforcement Branch

Tel: (212) 668-7877.

Responsible for enforcing all U.S. maritime laws. Also notifies mariners of offshore fixed gear (i.e. lobster pots) through the free monthly publication "Atlantic Notice to Fishermen." This notice contains the geographical coordinates of all reported fixed gear for the North Atlantic area and includes other topics and activities of interest to Atlantic fishermen.

The purpose of reporting fixed gear is for protection from trawlers and other marine activities. To report fixed gear, call the above number collect. Names of all vessels reporting are kept confidential.

The branch is also responsible for daily radio broadcasts that report fixed gear changes. Stations, frequencies and time of the broadcasts are listed in each "Atlantic Notice to Fishermen."

The branch also schedules offshore vessel patrols that include fisheries law enforcement and boarding of fishing vessels operating within the 200 mile fisheries zone.

The Mid-Atlantic Fisheries Development Foundation, Inc. was formally organized in April, 1978. The Foundation is directed by a Board of Trustees representing fishery trade organizations, processing firms, harvestors, and marketers of fishery products in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

The purpose of this Foundation is to provide a non-profit, non-political, non-partisan industry-wide organization, concerned with the commercial development of fisheries in the Mid-Atlantic region. The Foundation plans industry research and development needs, secures financing, administers projects on contract and disseminates results and conclusions. The Foundation also works in cooperation with public and private citizens and organizations at all levels to further encourage the development of fishery programs in the Mid-Atlantic region.
